

Intellectual Property

The firm's intellectual property practice includes trademarks, copyrights, unfair competition, trade secrets, false advertising, computer software/internet protection, licenses and agreements, and due diligence.

When IP issues result in litigation, our highly qualified team of IP litigators provides aggressive representation for our client's most valued assets. Our litigators have prosecuted claims for trademark, trade dress and copyright infringement, unfair competition, false designation of product origin, and trademark dilution.