Jennifer Horan focuses her practice on all aspects of condominium and homeowners' association law. She has over 12 years of community association law and general litigation experience. In addition to practicing law with a number of Florida-based firms, Jennifer also spent time as a Senior Attorney with the State of Florida Department of Health. Here, day-to-day legal services were provided to seven county health departments and children's medical services. State contracts were drafted, reviewed and approved while she oversaw and directed EEOC investigations. Prior to her legal career, she acted as the Head of Special Education at Richardson Independent Schools in Dallas, Texas.

PROFESSIONAL / COMMUNITY ACTIVITIES

Jennifer is a member of the Women's Council of Realtors where the highest standard of industry professionalism and the tools and resources are made available for long-term business success.
