By: Yolanda Cash Jackson

Becker is proud to celebrate Shareholder Yolanda Cash Jackson's inclusion in the 2020 edition of INFLUENCE 100, a list of the 100 most influential people in Florida politics. Yolanda is an experienced Government Law attorney who has established a strong reputation in the community for her leadership and commitment to civic, charitable and professional organizations. She has a particular interest in state government funding and appropriations, and actively collaborates with Florida's leading elected officials and policymakers to shape a better future for the Sunshine State.

"It is no surprise that Yolanda appears among prestigious company on this list," said Gary Rosen, Managing Shareholder of Becker & Poliakoff. "She has always emulated true leadership and, even in her role on our firm's management committee, works to build relationships that benefit the greater good of our firm. We are proud that she has been recognized for both her work and her heart of service."

Yolanda is a current appointee to The Florida Bar's new standing committee on Governmental and Public Policy Advocacy and a co-founder of The National Black Lobbyists Association (NBPLA), a group launched in 2019 to promote diversity and inclusion in the lobbying corps at state capitols.
